Boy: Mum, I'd like to take part in a talent show for young cooks.

Woman: Excellent idea, Mike.

Boy: But what should I cook?

Woman: Your favourite pasta with tomato sauce and chicken!

Boy: I'm not allowed to use meat in the show.

Woman: How about a cake then?

Boy: No desserts, either. I was thinking about mixed grilled vegetables.

Woman: Great! You often make that. It's delicious.

Boy: So that's decided then.

Tekst 2.

Woman: Please leave your message after the tone.

Boy: Hello. I need some advice. Our biology teacher took us to the forest and we found a young deer there. It looked sick. We wanted to give it some water to drink. But a forest worker told us not to go near the animal. I'm worried about the deer. Could a vet call me back and tell me if leaving it there was the right thing to do?

Tekst 3.

Woman: Could you get me something from the shop, Peter?

Boy: Please, Mum, ask Jane. She's got to go out anyway to buy some books for her project.

Woman: But Jane isn't here and I need some apples now. I want to make a cake like the one we saw at the baker's the other day.

Boy: I remember. It looked delicious.

Woman: Here's the money then and don't be long.

Tekst 4.

Man: Sue, remember that we're getting up early tomorrow. We have to get to the airport.

Girl: Yes, I know. Are we taking the bus to get there?

Man: No, the buses are sometimes crowded. We'll go by train. Anyway, it's our last day here. Let's enjoy it. It's so nice to look at London's sights from the river.

Girl: You're right. Let's take some pictures while we're on board. Maybe with the captain?

Tekst 5.

Boy: Hi Olivia, Matthew here. Please pick up the phone. Listen, I really didn't know it was your birthday on Saturday. That's why I invited everyone to my place. I didn't want to ruin your party and I'm really upset about that. Please, can you forgive me?

Zadanie 2.

- Boy:* Kate, the programme for the School Open Day is ready. Now we have to decide where each event will take place.
- Girl:* OK, where shall we start?
- Boy:* The gym. It's perfect for showing the students' drawings and paintings.
- Girl:* But the gym has already been reserved by our Spanish teacher. She needs it for a word game – very similar to the one we played last year.
- Boy:* Oh, I forgot. You need space to move around and find words for your team. Yes, the gym is the best place for that.
- Girl:* OK, that's settled then. What's next?
- Boy:* The main hall.
- Girl:* The girls from class 3B can use the stage there to show their amazing salsa and flamenco steps.
- Boy:* Great idea! So now what about the classroom next to the hall? Maybe we could show the drawings and paintings there?
- Girl:* No. I think it should be used for the slide show and video clips about our school. The classroom has a projector and screen, so everything is ready for such a show.
- Boy:* OK. And now the canteen.
- Girl:* Let me think. Last year we had a table tennis tournament there. What about doing the same again?
- Boy:* There won't be any table tennis this year because the tables need repairing.
- Girl:* So if we remove the tables and chairs from the canteen, we'll have enough space to display all the drawings and paintings, don't you think?
- Boy:* That's a perfect solution.

Zadanie 3.

- Woman:* Welcome to this meeting of The British Royal Family Fan Club! Today we have two guests. First Emily Dyson will tell you about the food prepared at Windsor Castle for the royal family. Later on, Oliver Smith, a famous master chef, will show you how to make some of these dishes and you'll have a chance to try them. Listen carefully to what they say because this knowledge will be very useful for you in our competition this month. Each of you can take part and win great prizes! The first prize is a meeting with Catherine, the Duchess of Cambridge. The second prize is a professional photo session in the gardens at Buckingham Palace when the royal family is away. And the third is a visit to the ballroom in Kensington Palace. I hope you enjoy today's meeting and will want to come again next month.
